

Vogue loves Rationale skincare

VOGUE LOVES

By Sigourney Cantelo on April 18, 2011 10:06am

Vogue Australia's Beauty Editor, Sigourney Cantelo, on what's hot...

"I've been testing out the Essential Six, a line of highly active products by cosmeceutical range Rationale Skincare. The blackheads on my nose have disappeared and my skin is more even textured and brighter. Could this be the secret to an immaculate complexion?"

Rationale The Essential Six, $698.

www.rationaleskincare.com.au

0

Like

5

Comments

Add a comment

Diana_Shaw77 commented on Vogue loves... at 12:13pm Thursday 28th April < Reply

OMG I love this brand!!! My Dermatologist put me onto it years ago for pigmentation and I've been using it religiously ever since. My blotchy brown spots have faded and I never get pimples anymore! I can't rave enough. I've used Retin A before too, which was great but it made my skin flaky. The Rationale vitamin A serum (in the purple bottle) does the same thing but without drying my skin out. Good one Vogue for sharing brands like this with your readers. Smart. And it beats seeing the same old department store brands over and over.

Your Comments

vogue.com.au is about sharing your opinions with others. To make a comment you must be a member: Log in or Register. Be the first to comment on this article.